Obituary

Chequita Janice Jones was born on June 24, 1958 to Barbara and Theodore House in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Although born an only child, she had an extensive extended family, and a multitude of cousins whom she considered to be her brothers and sisters.

She attended Northeast High school where she earned her high school diploma. As a young woman Chequita was heavily into fashion and styled herself accordingly to the latest style. Her beautiful hair was even on trend with such styles as afros, curls, and long blow outs. She may have even hinted at times that she was a model (hehe). Being an only child made Chequita very independent and she decided at an early age to dedicate her life to Jesus Christ. She was heavily into church and devoted herself to reading the bible faithfully. She had read the bible from cover to cover a total of four times and could quote any verse in its entirety.

Between her bible breaks she managed to meet a man named Michael Earl Jones in 1978 who asked her to give him a lift one night after a get-together. She quoted "to help him get his car out of the shop". She couldn't believe this stranger had the nerve to ask her for such a favor, but she gave him a lift...and that's how their courtship began. In 1983 Chequita and Michael married and continued their love for 36 years. Chequita was employed by Presbyterian Hospital and worked in Health Information Management for almost 30 years.

Chequita was undeniably the life of the party for many, and she always had to help herself to a dance whenever her favorite song came on. She knew how to enjoy life but she was very serious about helping out people where she could. Many people would agree that Chequita had the biggest heart and would give a stranger the shirt off her back. She was by nature a counselor of the sincerest kind and a constant prayer-warrior for anyone who was in pain or needed a shoulder to cry-on. She was always a faithful woman of God and was a firm believer in attending church regularly...because "if you can't go to church on Sunday, then you can't do anything else the rest of the week"; this was mostly directed at her children. She was a member People's Church until she could no longer physically attend due to illness.

Although Chequita battled a neuromuscular illness for 10 years, she held steadfast to her faith and her love for her friends and family. Chequita loved her reality TV and could tell you all about the latest happenings and newest food items that she wanted to try. Chequita was above all a devoted wife, a great mother, and an awesome friend.

On October 31, 2019 God called his angel home and Chequita transitioned on into that everlasting peace where she was preceded by her son, Michael E. Jones II.

She leaves to cherish her memory, her loving husband, Michael; her daughter, Tethel Jones; two sons, Corey S. Jones (Starr) and Michael E. Jones III; and five grandchildren.

Chequita's legacy of love, generosity, and laughter will continue to live on through all that ever knew her and these memories of her life we will cherish always.

Never Forgotten

by Michael E. Jones III

Mother, you left us beautiful memories
Your love is still our guide
Although we cannot see you
You're always at our side
You taught us many things
How to be a family
Eat, sleep, run, jump, hug, and kiss
But there is one thing you never taught us...
How to live without you
Death leaves a heartache no one can heal
Love leaves a memory no one can steal
It's not goodbye...its until we see you again.

I miss you and love you always!

Acknowledgment

We would like to send a sincerest thank you to everyone who prayed, called, texted, cooked, sent flowers or goodies, and cried for this amazing woman who we had the pleasure of loving all this time. We couldn't have gotten through this process without your love and support, may God be with you every day.
