For My Sister

It is a pain of sorrow
As I cry today and tomorrow
But she says, why cry my dear family and friends?
For I am still here
Now grab my hand and I will make this clear
You say I was angry, and you are right
But I must say, I had love like a dove
Even in the midst of the dark light
I just had emotions as we all do
Part of life as I grew
But I did smile a smile so bright
It may have just given you a fright
And it started when I was young with a mother
Who carried me to victory
And as it continued through my sickness and pain,
My parents, siblings, grandparents, cousins, aunts,
Uncles, and friends became my crutch and cane
Now I am happy and in peace as you should be
Are you a question that I want to see?
Now stand up and realize my story has come to an end
And yes it has gone through a lot that made it bend
For it was good, bad, and sad which is to be expected
But he told me I will bring you up
And make sure your new story is perfected
So thank you my family and friends for all you have done
And boy was it fun
Now don't cry or be sad
As I really want you to be glad
So we looked up and could see
Her smile as big as could be
We will miss you and love you till the end
Until we join again

Obituary

Danna Marie Washington was born on March 3, 1987 at Baptist Hospital in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma to Debora and Leon Washington. She was the second child born to that union.

Danna was always very independent and was an excellent student. She got her first job at 15 years of age. She had several jobs during her high school years, but what she enjoyed the most was her yearly work at the Oklahoma State Fair. She graduated in 2005 from Putnam City North High School.

Soon after graduating, Danna gave birth to her first child, Nehemiah. From that time on her number one priority was being a good mother. Her second son, Sijeh, was born seven years later and she dedicated her life to providing for the happiness and well being of her two beloved sons.

Danna accepted Christ at a young age and was eager to share His love with her friends and family. She had a positive, loving personality and a smile that would light up the room.

Everyone knew her to be kind, gentle and compassionate. She valued her close friendships and considered her sister to be her best friend.

Everyone Danna met was immediately drawn to her. She formed close and meaningful relationships. Her relationship with the Steel family of California is an example of one such connection. They loved Danna and her sons dearly and chose to honor her memory with a gift to celebrate her life.

Danna leaves to cherish her memory: Paternal Grandparents: Leon Washington Sr. and Lynndella Hill; Maternal Grandparents: Clarence Bell, Loretta & Edward Ballenger; Leon Washington, Jr.(Father), Debora Bruner (Mother), Ashley Bruner (Stepfather), Leon Washington III (Brother), two sisters, Demetria Washington and Jordan Bruner, two sons, Nehemiah and Sijeh, and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.
