Obituary

Anna Marie Rambo was born March 9, 1949 in Chickasaw, Oklahoma to Maxine and Robert L. Rusher who both preceded her in death. At an early age she met and married Theodore Rambo Jr. and moved to Grand Rapids, Michigan. Through their union, 3 sons were born.

She knew at an early age that she enjoyed singing. Her mother's close friend, Ms. Fran Patton nick named Anna "Re Re" because she looked and sang like Aretha Franklin. While in Michigan, she and several friends started a gospel group called the "Gospel Tones." The group took off! They traveled nationally singing and spreading the gospel. After a few years, it was time to go back to school where she eventually obtained an associate degree from Davenport College in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Looking to start anew, Anna and her children moved back to Oklahoma City to begin a career with General Motors where she worked for over 17 years. Retirement from General Motors meant more time to serve. As a life-long member of the Church of the Living God PGT#1, she sang in the choir and was a licensed missionary. She was dedicated and always willing to do whatever was needed to help her church community.

Anna had a real zest for life. She loved to fish with her dad and sons. But her favorite had to be her "girl's night" where they would play cards and dominoes while sitting around laughing and fellowshiping. She had a knack for keeping "score" as a reminder of how bad she beat you. And let's not forget how she was about her soap operas. It was understood not to disturb her between 11am and 1pm.

Anna gave her life to raising her boys and helping them become God-fearing men. She was adamant about teaching them to cook, clean and sew while ensuring they had a personal relationship with God. Her nieces, nephews, grandchildren and great grand-children meant the world to her. Sharing life lessons, recipes and quality time with family was everything to her.

Anna was a matriarch and a fighter until her health began to fail in recent months. She remained determined, happy, energized, and focused on her family. Something as simple as sitting on her porch drinking a cup of coffee gave her such joy. She earned her wings June 7, 2021. She was preceded in death by her parents (Maxine and Robert L. Rusher), her 2 brothers (Walter Roberson and Robert E. Rusher) and two nephews (Rodney L. Rambo and Lawson D. McGaskey).

She leaves to celebrate her homegoing; three sons, Theodore Rambo III, Marcus E. Rambo (Helen) and Mario D. Rambo; two sisters, Jacqueline McGaskey, and Doris Rusher; one brother, Glenwood B. "Benard" Rusher; six grandchildren, Iesha Williams, Theodore Rambo IV, Ciara Draper, Jordan Rambo, Marcus A. Rambo, and Mari Rambo; eleven nieces and nephews, Tare Rambo, Melissa Rambo, Carmen Rambo-Moss, and Kelley Rambo Danyell Humphrey, Kayndetra "Candy" Walton, Artresha Berry, Bernita Williams, Glenwood Rusher Jr., Jaquita Johnson, and Bobbi Jarmon; two special cousins, Juanita Gaddis and Bridget Daniels; and a host of great grandchildren, cousins, other family members and friends.
