

POEM

Just close your eyes and you will see all the memories that you have for me. Just sit and relax and you will find that I'm really still there inside your mind. Don't cry for me now that I'm gone, for I'm in the land of song. There is no pain and there is no fear, so dry away your silent tears. Don't think of me in the dark, but think of me when you see the sun roll, for I'm looking down amongst you all. I'm in that place that's filled with love known to all as the "UP ABOVE."

OBITUARY

Tracey Eugene Zackery Sr. was born on April 23, 1962, in Oklahoma City. He attended John Marshall High School where he played basketball for a while. Tracey was the ladies' man and had a charm you couldn't ignore. Everytime you would see him he would be dressed fresh from his large collection of hats to the gold shades to his stylish shoes. He also had a knack for hooking up stereos and speakers and you would always catch him working on one of his collection of old school cars. Almost everyday was a holiday at Zack's house when we would barbecue, play dominoes, and listen to all of the old school hits. He was truly the life of the party. Tracey loved his kids Tracey Jr, Travis, Antonio, and Tra'Onna. Although he was not perfect, the love was always reciprocated. He also loved being around his siblings Larry, Travita, Janet. He also had two Step brothers Greg and Derrick. Tracey Sr. will forever live in our hearts.
