The Reason Why I Live Even While I Am Gone

By CC Adams

Now the Lord led me to write this on one early Monday morning on August 8, 2021 at 5:36 a.m., and He told me to write this on paper. I didn't have any equal writing paper with me where I was at, at that time, but this will do. So here I am to tell everyone what God told me to tell you all. My family, my children, sisters, brothers, nieces, nephews, and my cousins by the dozens.

Now if anyone is reading this I must already be gone away but my spirit is with you all.

Remember the Bible tells us about forgiveness, love and one without sin, cast the first stone. Now I was 49 when this was written at my best friend's house in Tulsa, Oklahoma. I thank God for blessing me with her in my life. God always knew who to send to you while we are on this road of life. The reason why I live is because I will always live, even while I am gone.

Tribute To Momma

There is this woman who stays on our mind.
Never in our life have we ever seen a woman
so fine.

She's smart, generous, and she even shines. If loving her is wrong, we will do our time cause this woman is truly one of a kind.

You can't just talk to her by saying a few lines, because this woman wants to know what's really on your mind, your heart, to see if you're being real from the start.

This woman I'm talking about in life will give you drama and that's our beautiful Momma,
"Cute Christine."
