

I Am Learning How To Live

I am learning how to live
In a new way
Since that day
You were taken away.

I am learning how to live
With the things left unsaid
Knowing I got to say them
With every tear that I shed.

I am learning how to live
By embracing the pain
Knowing that you live on
Through the memories that remain.

I am learning how to live
Knowing I will never again see your face
And I have peace knowing
You're in a better place.

I am learning how to live
Knowing you're in God's care
It gives me the strength to move on
And makes the pain much easier to bear.

In Loving Memory

On February 18, 1994 a beautiful baby boy was born to Latoya Kessee and Barry Irving, Sr. who they lovingly named Jaylen DeShawn. He was the second of five boys raised along with his stepfather, Reggie Daniel.

Jaylen attended True Vine Christian School, Millwood Schools and John Marshall High School.

He accepted Christ as his personal savior at The Secret Place Community Church where he remained a member.

Jaylen was blessed with two loves that brought him great joy, Jaylen DeShawn Irving, Jr. and Journi Irving.

He had a love for reading and math. He was gifted to work with his hand doing carpentry. He had two passions, cooking and dancing which brought him great joy.

Preceded him in death was his great-grandmother, Alberta King; his grandmother, Helen Irving and grandfather, Quentin Irving.

Jaylen leaves to cherish his sweet memories: his parents and step-father, Reggie Daniel; four brothers, Barry Irving, Jr., Ryan Irving, William Kessee and Nicholas Daniel; grandparents, Rosa Kessee and Ronald McCain; uncles, Ronald Kessee, Randall McCain and Anthony Mayes; cousins, Darrion Kessee and Kendale Kessee; a special brother, Michael Watts; and a host of other relatives and friends that are too numerous to name yet not forgotten.

Acknowledgement

The family of Jaylen Irving would like to thank each of you for your acts of kindness.

Perhaps you sent a lovely card or sat quietly in a chair;

Perhaps you sent a floral piece, if so, we saw it there.

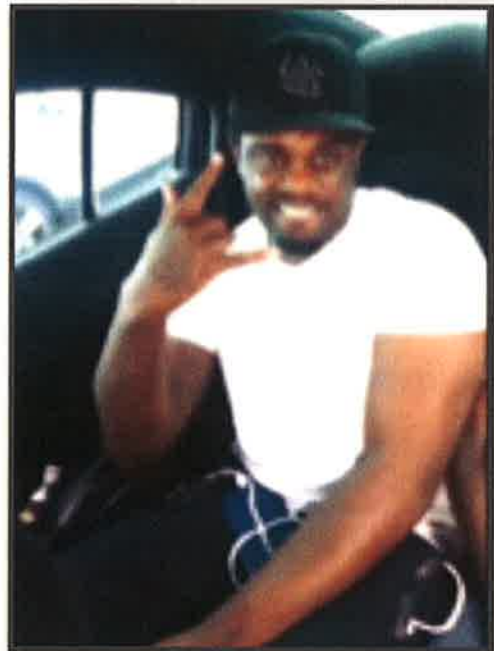

Perhaps you spoke the kindest words, as any friend could say;

Whatever you did to console the hearts,

We thank you so much, whatever the part.
