

A Letter From Heaven

I am writing this from Heaven,
Where I dwell with God above,
Where there's no more tears or sadness,
There is just eternal love.

The day I had to leave you,
When my life on earth was through,
God picked me up and hugged me,
And said 'I welcome you'.

Please do not be unhappy,
Just because I'm out of sight.
Remember that I'm with you,
Every morning, noon and night.

But one thing is for certain,
Though my life on earth is over,
I am closer to you now,
Than I ever was before.

When you are walking down the street,
And you've got me on your mind,
I'm walking in your footsteps,
Only half a step behind.

And when you feel that gentle breeze,
Or the wind upon your face,
That's me giving you a great big hug,
Or just a soft embrace.

Obituary

Pearl Elaine Wiley was born September 20, 1957 in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma to Eula Mae Wiley and Green Willis Wiley. Pearl was preceded in death by both parents and her sisters, Margareete Walker and Shirley McCarty.

Pearl is survived by one sister, Berkley Potts-Gates, her two children: Akellia (Delbert) Briggs and Anton Wiley; her one and only grandson, Damerius Wiley (Whoochie Whooch); nine nieces and nephews, countless great and bonus nieces and nephews.

Pearl was raised by her grandmother, Amanda Lewis in Guthrie, Oklahoma where she graduated from Guthrie High School in 1975.

Pearl worked in various nursing related jobs as well as Twitty's BBQ where she ate up most of her checks. Pearl one day would soon meet the father of her children while spending time at her sister Berkley's home. The two shared a love for music. Anyone who knew Pearl knows she loved some music. Some of you may have had the privilege to get a song or two blasted over the phone. Many people considered Pearl their bonus mother or aunt. She played a major part in their lives as well as their children. Pearl was always a great listener to anyone who wanted to share their personal stories or issues. She was also a great alarm clock for many due to her being a night owl. Pearl's pride and joy came on October 21, 2003, and that would be her grandson, Damerius (Whoochie Whooch). She would always say "my baby is going to handle his business, leave him alone." And of course she was right. Pearl Wiley wasn't afraid of anything (well accept 2-legged and 4-legged dogs, LOL). She was a force to be reckoned with, a fighter to the end and she will never be forgotten.
